Thought He Was A Nazi Spy Says Youth Who Shot Policeman Three Times

Boy Is In Padded Cell As Doctors Fight To Save
Officer's Arm

Physicians and surgeons at St. Luke's Hospital are battling to save the right arm of Police Officer Daniel J. Rauscher who was shot through both hands and the upper right arm by 19-year old George Ferris Land when he answered a police call at 3:30 last Thursday morning. Land is in a padded cell in the hospital of the county jail in Los Angeles, held to answer a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Land's explanation of the shooting is that he thought the officer was a Nazi spy. He had telephone the police station reporting there were spies in the neighborhood of the residence of his distant relative and guardian, H. Randolph Wood at 225 N. Hermosa ave. The call was radioed to Rauscher who was on patrol and he hurried to the address given.

While Rauscher was attempting to open the gate a voice in the dark announced, "I'm here," and advanced toward him with a .22 calibre rifle, commanding the officer to "march" as he pointed the weapon at him. As Rauscher walked down the driveway while trying to talk the boy out of his purpose, Land commanded him to take ten steps more. "Then I'll let you have it," Rauscher reports him as saying.

Realizing his danger the officer reached for his gun and Land pulled the trigger on his rifle as a bullet pinged through the officer's right hand. As Rauscher switched his revolver to the left hand Land fired again, hitting Rauscher in the left hand. A third bullet struck him in the upper right arm, severing a main artery. Rauscher fired three times with his injured left hand but the shots went wild and Land disappeared into the darkness. Later the rifle was found on the porch of Land's guardian and Land was taken into custody in the house.

Rauscher attracted the attention of nearby residents who called the police station. Chief McMillan and Officer James C. Heasley responded and after administering first aid to prevent Rauscher's bleeding to death, rushed him to the hospital and arrested Land, who said he thought the officer was a spy when he attempted to open the gate at the Randolph home.

Rauscher, 26 years old is the father of two children, lives at 153 Wilson ave., and is Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 2. He has been on the police force since last September. He has been in intense pain and physicians feared severing of the artery might cause loss of his right arm. However yesterday there was feeble circulation in the right hand that gave hope that the arm may be saved, though the period of recovery will be very long and he will never have the full use of it again.

Preliminary hearing of Land was tentatively set for today before Justice John A. H. Sturgeon in the township court at Monrovia. Police Chief McMillan says that if he is unable to stand trial on the charges against him because of a mental condition, he will probably be confined in the psychopathic ward. He was a student at Pasadena Junior College and a member of the local company of the State Guard. He was born in Sierra Madre.

Stores Will Close Here On Monday

A majority of Sierra Madre's business houses will be closed from Saturday night until Tuesday morning, electing to observe Monday as a holiday. Pupils of both the grammar and St. Rita's schools will have an extra holiday.

The local postoffice, like those throughout the county, will carry on as usual. So will the district ration board at 129 S. Myrtle ave., Monrovia. The Sierra Madre Savings Bank and the business office of the city hall will be closed.

New Police Officer Named By Council

J. L. Winthrop has been appointed a member of the local police department to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William D. Richards.

He is a member of the auxiliary fire department and resides with his wife and two children at 222 E. Highland ave.

5,000 Poppies Arrive For Poppy Days

Will Be Worn In Tribute To Men In Present
And Past Wars

Flaming red poppies—5,000 of them—arrived in Sierra Madre yesterday from the Veterans Hospital at San Fernando. Tomorrow and Saturday—Poppy Days—local citizens will wear them in tribute to the Americans who gave their lives in the present and past wars in which the nation engaged.

At a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary tonight at the home of Mrs. Bertha Irvine the flowers, shaped patiently by the hands of disabled veterans of World War I now in government hospitals, will be arranged in baskets and apportioned to members of the Auxiliary and Camp Fire Girls who will offer them for what you are willing to give on the streets on the two Poppy Days. Each flower is a replica in crepe paper of the flowers that blossomed on the battle fields of World War I.

"Flanders fields are on the other side of the world from Guadalcanal and a quarter of a century distant in time but this little wild poppy of Flanders speaks for the dead of both battles," said Poppy Chairman Ornelia Stinman. "The poppy is the memorial flower for all who died in America's struggle against world slavery, wherever or whenever they fell. We wear it to show that we remember them honor them and are continuing to fight in the cause for which they died."

Men who served in the first World War were urged to be first to put on a poppy on Poppy Days in a message issued by Commander Gabriel of the American Legion Post. Recalling the service and sacrifice of the men who fought for America 25 years ago, Commander Gabriel said: "Men are again being called upon to give their lives for America, as did our comrades in 1917 and 1918. Our own boys and our neighbors' boys are among them. Our hearts are heavy at the thought that some of those young men must meet the same fate as those other young men we left beneath the poppies of France. We, before all others, should understand the significance of the little red flower and should lead the way in paying tribute to the nation's fallen defenders."

Fund Sought For Youth Activities

Members of the Kiwanis Club began canvassing the city Tuesday to raise a fund of $1615 with which to carry on the various youth activities here throughout the year. Teams reported last night they were meeting with splendid success and little difficulty is anticipated in meeting the quota fixed after budgets submitted by the youth organizations had been reviewed. The amount sought is about the same as that freely given by local citizens in 1942.

Youth groups to be supported out of the amount raised are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Brownie Scouts, Cub Scouts, the Kiwanis recreation center and the Y.M.C.A. of the Santa Anita district. Operating expenses of the recreation center, patronized by all of the youth groups, are included.

Carl Hansen, past President of the Kiwanis Club, is chairman of the fund campaign committee. Captains of rival Kiwanis teams are Dan Reib and Dr. John L. Woehler. The committee that passed on the various budgets and fixed the quota consists of R. C. Lewis, Harry Lange and Carl Hansen.

New B-C Gas Books

Renewal blanks for "B" and "C" gasoline coupon books are now in the mail and should be received by Friday, May 28. However, motorists not receiving their forms by May 28, are advised to call at the War Price and Rationing Board at 129 S. Myrtle ave., Monrovia.

MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day has always been tinged with the pathos and sadness of ageing soldiers, tottering feebly along under the flag. Few veterans of the Civil War survive, but they were proud to the last, proud of their participation in preserving the unity of our nation.

Memorial Day now numbers all the "veterans of former wars," living or dead, and at the close of World War II, our debt to those who fight, that national liberty may live, will have increased a hundred-fold.

American casualties in action on all battle fronts, in all services, during the 17 month at war, are more than 80,000 now, with a possible 5000 more when all counts from the North African campaign are in. That represents more than eight times the normal number of deaths. When the war is done, and the final toll taken, in spite of efficiency of battle surgery, the world will have lost great numbers of men. Many of the young, the strong, the fine, the able-bodied, the brilliant, will be gone. Some of them would have written great books, composed great music, painted fine pictures, become great statesmen, fathered fine children for the nation's future.

For a little while after each war, we tell each other these things and sentimentalize about it. Then we forget. We try to go on in old impractical ways that have proved invalid. We let tyrants develop themselves. We let ourselves or others be subtly robbed of little freedoms until whole nations are enslaved. And soon again there is war—fife, drum and battle.

May some Memorial Day in the future stand for a hundred warless years, and count not a single veteran of any war in its parades. To that end we salute this day!

New Officers Elected By Local PTA

Mrs. C. L. Young was elected president of the Sierra Madre Parent-Teacher Association at the annual meeting of that organization May 20 at which a program of summer activities for children of the city was proposed. Other officers elected were Mrs. J. S. Floyd, first vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Morgan, second vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Toms, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Dedrick, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Roy Pickett, treasurer; Mrs. Ralph Cordry, financial secretary; Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, historian; Hilliard Bernard, auditor, and Mrs. John Clauss, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Margaret Fling of the Los Angeles County Toy Loan explained the benefits and methods of the toy loan library.

Miss Grace Kramer gave a demonstration of canning fruit by the hot pack method, and of canning non-acid vegetables by the pressure cooker method. Booklets with instructions for canning of

No Formal Memorial Day Exercises Here This Year

There will be no formal Memorial Day ceremonies in Sierra Madre this year. Commander H. E. Gabriel of the American Legion and Commander Roy Davis of the Veterans of Foreign Wars report that many of the members of both organizations are now engaged either in some vital war industry or have returned to active military duty and that enough members are not available to carry on.

Both organizations and the American Legion Auxiliary have been invited to attend the Service of Intercession in the Church of Ascension in uniform on Sunday at 4 p.m.

Women of the Legion Auxiliary will decorate the graves of 47 veterans of all wars in the local cemetery. They are sorely in need of flowers for this worthy purpose. Citizens having flowers to contribute are asked to call Mrs. Val Miller at Custer 5-4752 and they will be picked up.

Fruits and vegetables were distributed.

Mrs. W. B. Wyman of 31 E. Mira Monte has received a letter from her nephew, Cpl. Coad Richards, saying he enjoys work at his new post with the Army. He is stationed with the tank destroyers unit of the army at Fort Lewis, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Grady of 535 Manzanita ave. have received word from their son, Thomas Daniel O'Grady, that he expects to be home sometime this September for a visit with his family. He is stationed somewhere in the South Pacific with the Navy.

Allen Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Robertson of 51 Canon ave. who is somewhere at sea with the Navy writes home that he has received his seaman's rating. He has also appeared on a program over the ships radio, playing his harmonica for the rest of the fleet.

He also reports he has tried some deep sea fishing, without much success.

Tech. Sgt. Thomas W. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mitchell of 58 S. Hermosa ave., has been given an excellent recommendation for admission to the National Shortland Reporters Association in this country by his commanding officer, Lieut. Col. J. P. Mandl, Staff Judge Advocate of Headquarters III Island Command, in the Southwest Pacific battle area.

In short, Lieut. Col. Mandl says, "I have been in the private practice of the law for approx-

Plan Summer Recreation For Youths

A program of summer activities for the young people of Sierra Madre at the end of the school year that calls for utilization of all the equipment of the grammar school, its recreation room and library was discussed with School Superintendent Gerald Smith by the PTA at its annual meeting last Thursday at which officers were elected.

War conditions have greatly intensified the need of wholesome recreation, the PTA believes. Gas and tire rationing and overtaxed transportation facilities will seriously interfere with vacationing away from home and even short trips will be out of the question. During the discussion it was pointed out that there are many talented citizens here and that if many persons, including members of the PTA, will give a little of their time, a fine program of supervised summer activities can be worked out.

Carrying through of the program would call for use of the school playground, tennis courts, baseball diamond, playground equipment, the recreation room and library. Each member of the PTA board of directors has given a pledge to devote at least three full days of their time to carrying through the program and it is believed that practically the entire membership will make a similar offer and that many well known citizens who are not members will give of their time and talents.

Meanwhile persons willing to contribute some of their time to make the recreation program workable are asked to write or telephone either the office of the grammar school or Mrs. C. L. Young, PTA president-elect, whose telephone is 4309.

Approval of the program as outlined at the conference with Superintendent Smith by the school board is necessary and it will be submitted to the directors at their next meeting.

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE we wrote about in last week's SIERRA MADRE NEWS. Only, now that the Kiwanis have taken over the sponsorship of the "Sale," it's become something really more than that—more like a grand big Bazaar, with Sierra Madre housewives coming across not only with their quota of long-cherished "white elephants" but also with all sorts of things—good to eat, good to wear or keep; gardeners coming through with potted plants; artists, all sorts, with their variety of creations.

Count on the Kiwanis when there's a need for doing good—they and those Junior Kiwanis

New Kink In Pasadena's Water Suit

Law Just Approved Provides Master To Control
Withdrawals From Basin

A measure passed in the recent legislative session and just signed by Governor Warren provides for the appointment of a water master to administer the provisions of a proposed settlement of Pasadena's suit against Sierra Madre and 23 other communities in which it was sought to restrict their use of water from the underground basin.

The new law is an amendment to the water commission act but was not intended to give the State commission power to decide the water suit long pending in the courts. The water master provided for will control all withdrawals of water from the basin in accordance with the settlement now under consideration, or under a decree of the court if the suit is brought to trial.

Harold Huls, city attorney of Pasadena, summed up effect of the new law as follows:

"The court will decide the water suit, either on a stipulated agreement now in process of preparation, or by trial and judgment if the agreement cannot be affected."

"The amendment to the water commission act permits the appointment by the court of an officer or employee of the commission to act as water master to administer the provisions of the agreement of the parties in the case and which it is expected will be entered into by the parties and the judgment of the court based thereon."

commonly called Boy Scouts. All this week and next, until the Sale begins, June 3—then to remain open on through the 4th and 5th—the Boy Scouts will continue their house-to-house canvass, with no more thought of personal gain or loss than their own big brothers now on the fighting-fronts. This—is their Good Deed!

Their sisters, too, the girls of the Sierra Madre schools, have volunteered to do their part. And this will be chiefly to increase that fine collection of costume jewelry and similar trinkets which already has begun to show once more Sierra Madre's patriotic generosity. Have you noticed that sample display in the window of the NEWS? Fine!

Everything given, in goods and service, going one hundred percent as a boon, a solace, an inspiration, a joy, to those lonely boys of ours in camp or hospital. Not only now. But in years to come. When many an "Old Veteran" of this War to Save a World will still remember Sierra Madre with a grateful heart. Wherever he may be. Once more let's all of us try to do our best.

City Names Chairman Of Committee To Promote This Patriotic Activity

F. D. R. Moote, president of the Sierra Madre Garden Club, has been appointed by Mayor Schwartz as chairman of the city's Victory Garden committee. His first official act was to call a town meeting of all present and prospective Victory gardeners—everyone interested in the patriotic food production endeavor—to be held in the council chamber of the city hall at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, May 29.

Duty of the committee will be to stimulate interest in Victory Gardens, encourage their planting by individuals and groups and to advise and assist in the planting and raising of Victory crops.

As a starter in this direction Mr. Moote has asked for the assistance of the Block Mothers organization.

Through Mrs. W. R. Dedrick, Jr., who organized this unit of the local Civilian Defense Service Corps, he has asked that a census of Victory gardeners, present and prospective, be taken and that members of the group distribute booklets containing important information on the planting and cultivation of Victory gardens in this climate and soil, prepared by prominent authorities on the subject.

Jacques Hahn, a former president of the Garden Club, one of the country's best known agriculturists and a now a specialist in plant camouflage for military defense at March Field, will be the principal speaker at Saturday night's meeting. Other speakers will be Mrs. Dedrick, Mayor Tom Schwartz, and Kenneth Kearney who learned to be a Victory Gardener through practical experience with soil conditions here.

Committee similar to the one now being organized here are already functioning in more than half the cities and unincorporated communities in Los Angeles county. They are encouraging Victory gardens by the schools, neighborhood gardens where residents do not have sufficient space to plant individual gardens and in many cases cities are providing ground for such projects. They are also arranging contests and community "fairs" at which Victory gardeners will exhibit their products, with prizes for the best of them.

California now has close to a million Victory gardens in the backyards vacant lots, parks and hillsides of its fifty-eight counties. The annual estimated yield may be 125,000,000 pounds of vegetables, worth at current prices about twelve and-a-half million dollars.

Ration Coupons In Book No. 1 Good For Canning Sugar

Housewives can now obtain canning sugar with stamps 15 and 16 in War Ration Book No. 1 that became valid on May 24. Each stamp is good for five pounds of sugar to be used for home canning.

The Stamps will be valid for that purpose through Oct. 31. Consumers need only to go to their retail stores to obtain the sugar.

Later on, however, the boards will issue permits for an additional allotment of 15 pounds per person. In this way only families who need more than 10 pounds of sugar per person for home canning will have to apply to ration board headquarters.

The OPA expects the extra sugar to be used for canning and preserving only and that all will stay within the limits of the regular sugar allotment for domestic use provided for at present by Stamp No. 12 and on June 1 to Aug. 15, Stamp No. 13 good for five pounds.

Five Sierra Madreans will report for induction into the Army today as the city's contribution to the final May draft quota for the district. They are Frank Hu-tak, Marvin Martin, Lyle Henry Seaman, Jr., Howard Wallace Miller and Frank Joseph Adams.

Announcement was made yesterday that June quotas in California will be the smallest yet called. Most of the induction centers in the State will either be closed or go on half time as a result. It is expected the call on Sierra Madreans will be lighter than in May.

Got A Wheelbarrow

Just a minute or so before this was written Mrs. Margaret Senour of E. Grand View ave. called the News office. This is what she said: "The ad I ran in the last issue of the NEWS for a wheelbarrow brought results pronto. Within a couple of hours after the paper was on the street I had half a dozen phone calls and made my selection out of four that were offered before noon. So, you needn't run the ad again. Hereafter when I want to buy or sell anything I'm going to use a NEWS want ad."

Dogs At Large Bring Fines For Owners

Complaints of Pasadena citizens that their Victory gardens are being ruined by dogs allowed to run at large have brought action in the Crown City's city court. Justice J. Russell Morton is assessing $10 fines against owners of dogs at large without a leash. In some cases the dogs have been found to have no licenses and an additional fine has been levied. Nearly every city in this area has an ordinance similar to that in Pasadena, requiring that dogs on the streets must be on leash, and in most of them complaints from Victory gardeners have brought rigid reinforcement.

Pressure Canning Vegetables at Home

If you don't own a pressure canner, perhaps you can borrow one. It is absolutely necessary for canning non-acid vegetables; and that includes all common garden vegetables except tomatoes. This is why: botulinus bacteria adheres to growing vegetables even after they are washed. It is not dangerous in this state; but in the presence of moisture and heat, and in the absence of air as in canning, the botulinus develops spores which give off poisonous toxin. The high temperatures necessary to destroy them can be produced only under pressure, as in a pressure canner.

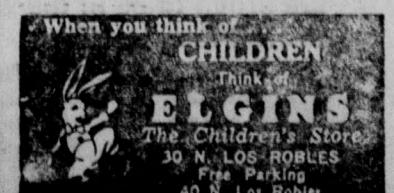

If you follow proper procedures and take the precaution of pre-cooking home-canned foods 20 minutes before tasting, there is no reason for being discouraged. You also have the alternative of home-drying with your gas range, a method to be discussed later in this series of advertisements.

Book Gives Pupils An Insight Into The Armed Forces

Publication of a new source book on the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, for high school students, has just been announced by the U.S. Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency. The book, entitled, "Our Armed Forces," was published in cooperation with the U.S. Infantry Association.

"Our Armed Forces" is printed in inexpensive but attractive form, with 120 official photographs and diagrams. Sections of the book were written by members of the War and Navy Departments and the U.S. Office of Education. Its publication was undertaken on the recommendation of the national policy committee for the High School Victory Corps.

The 136-page "Our Armed Forces" can be ordered from the Infantry Journal, 1115 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., (not from the U.S. Office of Education). The price is 35 cents per copy, or, to students, teachers, and schools, 25 cents per copy in quantities of four or more.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

One day it's hot and one day it's cool. It may be calm at seven and at midnight a stiff wind may arise. That is why it is important that we be sure a bonfire is completely extinguished before retiring for the night. Embers from a smoldering bonfire during a windstorm will carry to dry roofs that in turn will become a blaze. From now until the rainy season, much outdoor burning will be attempted and during this time, it will be necessary for the fireman to be alert and to keep a constant watch for fire hazards.

Since Danny Rauscher met with tough luck there has been much gloom around the station. He is suffering much pain and we are hoping that he is relieved soon.

The interest shown by the boys who work at Dick Hawk's Machine Shop is of great value to the fire department. Interest combined with physical ability makes them a great asset to the city's fire protection. Mercer Duff was recently married, but vows that he will not allow this to interfere with his duties as a fireman. Eber Thomas, Charlie Brown, Tom Solury, Ed. Decker and Art Johnson all work the same shift at Dick's plant and when the horn sounds for a fire call there is a general scramble thru' the doors of the shop.

THE DANGER LINE

The fight against inflation goes on, but up to now we're losing it, and our grasp on the checkreins becomes more tenuous as the weeks go by. When the new price administrator took office, he was reconciled to a rise in the cost of living by half a point a month—or 6 per cent a year. But in the last two months, the index has risen by 1.2 points. That two tenths of a point is the danger signal—prices are going up faster than even the "tolerance" that the price administrator was prepared to allow. Wage awards, together with orders requiring 48 hours of work weekly with 8 hours of overtime, are making dual contributions to inflation: Not only are the workers being paid relatively more for the same amount of work, for they receive a 30 per cent increase for 20 per cent more work, thus lifting unit cost, but such orders result in an increase of money in circulation which is greater than the increase in product. Moreover, the price administrator is now planning to "roll back" prices to last September but to do so by subsidies, which are also inflationary to the extent that they put money in circulation without adding to the volume of goods. The problem of inflation arises from the fact that there has been a sharp increase in available funds and a sharp decrease in available goods. Since we cannot materially increase the volume of goods, the answer lies in reducing the available funds, which government can do only by taking the funds, either as taxes or loans.

HOLD THEM

"I wish to express to newspapers generally our sincere gratitude for the part they played in the handling of news of the Second War Loan," said Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. in thanking the press for its work. "The support they gave—was as invaluable as it was unparalleled in promotional history."

Although final tabulations have not yet been made, it is known that the figures exceeded the goal by more than $4 billion. These figures express the peoples' understanding of the needs of the hour. But that understanding must go beyond the hour. Investors must buy for keeps.

Some persons invest heavily in bonds one week, only to sell them shortly thereafter to meet some debt. Investment in bonds should be held until the end of the war if it is to be any real help to the financing of the war and to the prevention of inflation.

Those who devoted themselves wholeheartedly to the promotion of the drive can now do another service in promoting the idea of "buying for keeps," rather than for temporary response to the campaign. Let the post-war nest egg incubate until maturity. If you break open the shell too soon, your chick may never give back a sign of life!

CAN TO CONQUER

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, in a recent announcement recommending home canning of this year's fruit crop, strongly urged housewives to put up fruit in sufficient quantity to take care of their families' entire needs, if possible.

Saying, in effect, that "we can conquer," Mr. Brown declared: "Every can of commercially packed foods saved through home canning is a direct and important contribution to our war effort. We can run the total into hundreds of millions of cans. Let's do it!"

Sugar for home canning, it was announced, will be allocated on the basis of one pound of sugar for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product. And it is interesting to note in this regard that the government suggests the housewife should try to provide a minimum of 125 quarts of fruits and vegetables per person.

Home canning has sometimes been pictured as a forbidding and mysterious task, but that's just Axis propaganda, according to the government experts. Says one home economist: "Canning, unlike cooking, requires no imagination or creative talent. It's precise, mathematical and organized. If you can mix a baby's formula, work on a production line, type a letter with margins or add up a bridge score, you're a canner."

So let's get on with the canning. When winter comes, we may be glad we perspired a bit during the summer.

NATION'S FUTURE

A free press is "absolutely necessary for the future of America," Cyrus Crane Willmore of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, held a convention of realtors in Memphis last week.

"If we lose the freedom of the press we'll lose all the freedom that we want to retain."

"What is absolutely necessary for the future of America is a free press," he said, "for a free press means you must fight for a free press in order to keep your business."

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

As well as they remember their wrapped puttees and the mud of foreign camps, veterans of the next-to-last World War remember that minor infractions of military rules meant the guard house; that major offenses meant dishonorable discharge and Leavenworth.

Both meant tremendous loss of manpower which the Army, building toward 10 million men, can't afford today.

In this war, the penalty for felonies such as murder, narcotics violations and sex offenses are yet unchanged, but there is new and enlightened treatment for men convicted of desertion, absence without leave, petty thievery, involuntary manslaughter, insubordination and sleeping on guard duty.

To the boys who saw Argonne and Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood, the new procedure sounds somewhat amusing, for it is based on sciences untapped by the Army in the days of Big Bertha and the Jenny. Its fundamentals are psychology, psychiatry and sociology.

At nine reclamation camps distributed around the nation, the "lost battalions" of military miscreants are finding themselves again, through training tuned to their own pride, self-respect and common sense. Sidney Shalett, New Yorker making one of the first civilian surveys of the camps, reports them singularly successful in rehabilitating men who slip, and getting them back into useful service. Camp Pickett, the Virginia post studied closest by Shalett, is designed for 18,000 men. Once there, a soldier is carefully studied by a psychiatry and sociology board, and recommended to the Honor Company, to General Prisoner category or to dishonorable discharge at the expiration of his sentence. Men who make training eventually get back into the Army, go into new outfits where their records do not follow. Twenty-five per cent of the boys make the grade at Pickett.

The reasons for infractions of military regulations should be of particular interest to civilians. Inexperienced junior officers sometimes cause trouble, the Army admits. Inability to take discipline causes more. The odd belief that insubordination opens doors to battle action brings a certain type to prison camp. But most cases of "going over the hill" have their incentive in trouble-filled letters from home!

That the new rehabilitation plan is working better than the plain penal servitude of other wars is indicated by the large percentage of good men returned by the modern method to military duty, proud to be trusted again by Uncle Sam, and eager to reclaim themselves in his service.

The.... Watch Tower

By Percy Poore Sheehan

ONE OF THOSE lulls in the garden, along toward late afternoon—birds getting ready for the night and the shadows getting thick in the shrubbery. When suddenly we were aware that a lot of the small birds had begun to talk all at once. A sort of fairy-tale atmosphere, a throwback to some old time when the earth was young and men and birds, and trees—and ants and other creatures—all spoke the same language. So we went over to where the excitement was, while the birds kept up their excited chatter, and there where the shadows were darkest was a strange white cat gleaming ghostly luminous and very witchlike. The cat gave us a stare. We did the proper thing. You must never hurt a cat. But we reached for a convenient faucet and sent a little water over in her direction. Cat-witches can be exorcised by water. She disappeared.

THEN, IN THE lull resumed, with the dark and the stillness closing in, it seemed as if this little incident had brought its moment of revelation—a revelation of many things—things that have worried the thoughts of men, perhaps, ever since men began to think, and are worrying them still today, more than ever it would seem: those old questions of Right and Wrong, of Sin and Responsibility for Sin, of Pain and Punishment, Hell and Heaven, Man's Will and the Will of God. Suppose the White Cat had killed a bird or two. Would that have been Sin and have marked the White Cat as fit for Punishment? Or could it be that the Lord God Himself had sent the Cat as an emissary of "His wrath and indignation"—to teach, perhaps, the birds repentance? We wondered.

BUT AS THE darkness and the silence increased so did that earlier sense of revelation. Of revelation and a dissolution of time and space—so that the garden and the hour by the clock both lost their shackles and ourselves and the world in general along with them. This—this moment—was both Alpha and Omega and all that came between: the World as it was in the beginning, when All was One—when God and his creatures still spoke the same tongue; the World Now, and the World-To-Come. Had that old partnership—that old Unity—ever been dissolved? No! came the answer. They say—so ran our thought—that this War has been sent upon us for our Sins. We heard an Answer: Could there ever be a greater Sin than for a Creator to have created Punishment for Sin?

CREATION!—so, we thought. That was the key-word: Creation! This was Creation—the War, the Floods, the wholesale Crucifixions—of Lidice, of Rotterdam, of Sabastopol; of Nanking and the thousand Chinese other towns and villages. These latter, they'd never heard of the Crucified Man of Galilee—or if they had heard, they'd probably never understood. But they'd heard of the myriad crucifixions of their own—old and young, girls and boys—and there'd been enough of these, surely, to atone for disobedience to any Law—Law whatsoever, human or divine. And all these victims—had they not also been engaged in the eternal task called Creation?

A STAR came out and we looked up at it through the shaggy black fragrance of a Sycamore. The air was like incense. The Star was an altar-light, the Sycamore a priest of a Temple old as the Garden of Eden. Who were all these people of the suffering Earth so occupied with Sin and Punishment—who told each other what God wanted and what God didn't want?—of God's wrath and indignation—who held that of all the Incarnations of God's Creative Thought—and now other stars were coming out—there had been but One Who was "His Only Begotten Son"—who'd walked the Earth and loved it—loved all of it—water, wine, wheat; its flowers and birds and people—love! all these because they also were "of the Father"...How could the Mistake have so obsessed our so-called Christian world that it had come to believe there could have been but One like that? Had He ever called Himself the Only Begotten Son?

WE STOOD THERE thinking of the Ages—they were all as if rapt in this single moment—Ages when every Creature of the Lord's Creation had been going through an endless round of Birth and Death, of Crucifixion

Political Parade

By CLEM WHITAKER

Governor Earl Warren, a veteran of World War I, will sign a batch of bills for veterans of World War II during the present 30-day bill signing period which should go far toward extending a helping hand to California service men when they come home to do civilian clothes and take up normal lives again.

The Legislature's program for war veterans, now on Governor Warren's desk for final action, is patterned in many respects after the program enacted following the last war. It provides for generous aid in the purchase of farms and homes, in tax benefits, in securing work and in assisting those whose training was interrupted to complete their education.

The California program, however, does not provide for bonus payments, as the bonus legislation will come later and will probably be enacted by Congress, rather than by the individual States.

Veterans of this war, when they come back, will have a head start over their buddies of the first World War, due to the fact that the program will be set up and waiting for them. The men who were "over there" in 1917 and 1918, and who are now well represented in the Legislature and in other positions of public trust, took care of that detail.

Here are the major proposals in the new veterans' program: A $30,000,000 bond issue to continue the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Program for men of this war. The bond issue which will be submitted to vote of the people next year, will be used to create a loan fund to aid the service men in getting homes and farms on liberal credit.

A $2,000,000 revolving fund to get the farm and home program started.

A $500,000 educational fund to aid vets in finishing their schooling.

A $1,000 exemption on local property taxes, similar to that enjoyed by past veterans.

State Income Tax exemption for the duration.

A two-year extension of the "freeze" on unemployment insurance benefits for veterans.

First choice on 50,000 jobs to be made available under a proposed $70,000,000 highway building program after the war.

A preference over all other candidates in civil service examinations for public positions.

and Apotheosis—silk-worm spinning her cocoon, coral-polyp yielding body and soul to the up-building of a communal atoll; earth-convulsions shaking down mountains, sinking continents, destroying populations. There, for a shuddering moment, we could not distinguish any of these things from the doings of Man Himself. The Sycamore breathed. "Of of God," it said. "The Father, the Word, the Holy Ghost," it seemed to intone. "There is none else. Be ye glad and rejoice forever in that which I create."

President Roosevelt estimates that American airplane output now surpasses that of all other nations in the world combined. U.S. 1944 production of aircraft is estimated at 1,417,000,000 pounds, amounting in round numbers to about 7,000 planes a month—which include more than 500 heavy bombers. To the air-minded people of the nation, this has a reassuring sound. Especially it is reassuring in view of a Tokyo broadcast picked up by the OWI recently, in which they heard Lieutenant General Ashinari Uchida acknowledge that the Japanese air force is inferior in technical knowledge, even while claiming that the Japanese have more spiritual strength! Wait! he means is that Shintoism promises a dead warrior many pretty girls, while American soldiers fight for the right to come home to that one pretty girl!

Photographic reconnaissance aircraft of the R. A. F. fly so high they can seldom be seen from the ground, and are never heard. Cameras must be electrically heated to prevent frosting of the lenses at such heights and the photos are snapped while the aircraft flies at tremendous speed. Enlarged to 50 times their original size, they are still completely clear. After the war, when we can use such things for toys, again, snapshots will certainly show us ourselves as others see us!

The "complete angler" this year will be the youngster with bent pin on the end of a string fishing in the old swimming hole! Full season for the American fisherman is on, but where is the fisherman, and where is the chance to fish? The inland angler, if any remain who are not carrying guns, or manning a forty-eight hour war job, will be happiest, for the salt water fisherman must confine himself largely to the beaches. Only a few salt water spots remain open—one off the Santa Monica pier, where you may go ten miles offshore—if the Coast Guard likes your looks!

Inland, the haunts of fishermen were usually reached by automobile. But California has thoughtfully planted an unusually large number of big trout in the rushing waters of the San Gabriel Canyon. You could walk it if fishing takes you that hard! There'll be few fish stories to add to the 1943 collection.

Cables from London report that the Allied victory in Tunisia has caused a sudden spurt in wagering on when the war will end, with the betting marts offering even money that Italy will be knocked out by the end of the year and that Germany will be beaten by November, 1944. London's financial district, too, reflects the wave of optimism, with a sharp rally in the bonds of occupied countries, particularly those of France, Greece and Poland. The new odds on victory may be fully justified in the light of recent developments on the war fronts, or they may be colored a bit by wishful thinking. Probably the best way to place a bet on an early victory is to put every dollar we can afford into war bonds. That's a bet that's certain to pay off!

The bright glare of the national spotlight may focus briefly on California during early June, according to the grapevine, with Wendell Willkie making a pre-presidential campaign visit here. Prominent citizens had a huddle in San Francisco a few days ago and decided to extend the invitation.

Evidence of the courage and stamina of naval aviators was shown in the early action in the Aleutian theater of operations. One Navy flier 19½ hours out of 24, another accumulated 178 hours of flying time in less than three weeks. "Many naval aviators on duty in the Aleutians averaged over 200 hours of combat flying in a single month," according to Comdr. F. A. Brossy, Officer in charge of the Los Angeles Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board. This is why excellent physical conditioning and aviation training by experts is so necessary.

California, with a grand total of $11,856,048,000 in war contracts and allotments, including the additional contracts awarded during January and February, now holds 10.40 per cent of the contracts awarded nationally, and leads its nearest competitor, Michigan, by nearly half a billion dollars. Michigan, second State in war contracts and allotments, now has a cumulative total of $11,370,843,000. New York is third with $10,904,628,000; Ohio fourth with $8,607,966,000; and New Jersey fifth with $7,733,277,000, according to tabulations made by the War Production Board.

Things to come—Plastic table cloths that can be cleaned simply by wiping with a wet cloth. Plastic auto tires and upholstery fabrics. Translucent, non-corrosive window screens. Plastic bathtubs so light they weigh only six pounds. Synthetic cinnamon having most of the characteristics of the Chinese product at half the price. A "cola" beverage fortified with vitamins.

February of 1943 was the lowest nationwide traffic fatality month in the past 16 years, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California. The toll for February across the nation was 1,600, a decrease of 32 per cent from the same month last year, with the cumulative toll for the first two months of '43 being approximately 40 per cent below last year—3,330 deaths to 5,500.

The output of aviation gasoline today is greater than the total production of all gas for all purposes during World War I, according to information forwarded to the Automobile Club of Southern California. Censorship restrictions prevent publication of the exact figures on current production of high-octane fuel.

A novel "bumper" that might be used on the much-discussed plastic "automobile of the future" is a shock-absorbing guard rail that runs clear around the vehicle. The bumper is designed to protect against side-swipes as well as head-on collisions.

Pvt. Ralph J. Hippert was home on leave from Camp Roberts during the weekend visiting his mother, Mrs. Barbara Hippert of 462 Mariposa ave.

Richard Barton Thurber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Thurber of 470 Manzanita ave., has finished his primary training in the Army Ferry Command, under the supervision of the C.A.A., at Baker, Calif., and is awaiting orders for his secondary course. In the meantime he has taken a job at Bishop, Calif.

If you wonder why your friends and relatives in the armed services are so tight lipped about Army and Navy activities, consider how earnestly the government is trying to impress the importance of silence on your defenders. Sgt. Joe Hinojos, down over the weekend from Fort Ord where he is official army photographer, tells of printed signs above and below all the mirrors at Ord. As the thousands of men look into the mirrors they read that, "If you talk this man may be killed."

Joe was elated over the fact that he had a "scoop" on a series of pictures of General Stillwell who recently returned from his command on the fighting front in the Pacific. Pictures of the two fisted General taken at his home in Monterey were made by Joe. They were published in the Camp and other newspapers all over the country.

Pvt. Warren Jones picked up a cold that developed into an attack of flu while on the way down from Camp Roberts to spend a weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Jones of East Alegria ave. Orders came from camp for his removal to the Army hospital at the Pasadenians monastery and later he was taken to the convalescent quarters at Camp Santa Anita. He has sufficiently recovered to return to Camp Roberts on Friday.

Edison Co. Declines Increase In Rates

Granted permission by the State Railroad Commission to increase its lighting and power rates to consumers because of the increased cost of fuel, the Southern California Edison yesterday formally declined to take advantage of the offer with the announcement that "it doesn't seem fitting and proper for us to accept rate increases at this time."
